Contents

List of abbreviations 7

Preface 9

1. Postmodern States as the Entrepreneurs of Kantian Ethics in International Relations 13

1.1. The postmodern, postmodernity, postmodern societies and postmodern states 15

1.2. The norm entrepreneurs and the conceptualisation of this role 23

1.3. Kantian ethics and the Kantian dimension of politics 25

1.4. A critical reflection on the presented project 29

1.5. Methodology and the plan of this book 31

2. Canada: A Humane Internationalist in the Shadow of a Large Neighbour 35

2.1. Introduction 35

2.2. Foundations of Canada's principled foreign policy and the context of the process of the creation of an alternative national interest 36

2.3. Canada in the role of upholder and mediator of cosmopolitan values 46

2.4. Limitations of Canada's principled foreign policy 55

2.5. Conclusion 59

3. The Federal Republic of Germany: The Gentle Giant 61

3.1. Introduction 61

3.2. Roots of German principled foreign policy and the context of the process of alternative national interest formation 62

3.3. Germany in the role of an upholder of cosmopolitan values 73

3.4. Restraints of German principled policy 82

3.5. Conclusion 86

4. Norway: A Humanitarian Superpower? 89

4.1. Foundations of Norway's principled foreign policy and the context of the process of the creation of its alternative national interest 92

4.2. Norway in the role of an upholder of cosmopolitan values 100

4.3. Restraints of Norwegian principled foreign policy 108

4.4. Conclusion 110

5. The Netherlands: Human Rights Above Own Interest? 113
5.1. Introduction 113
5.2. The basis of Dutch principled foreign policy and the context of the process of the creation of an alternative national interest 116
5.3. The Netherlands in the role of upholder and mediator of cosmopolitan values 124
5.4. Limitations of the Dutch principled policy 130
5.5. Conclusion 132
6. Slovenia: Pioneer and Mentor of the Western Balkans? 135
6.1. Introduction 135
6.2. Domestic context: the foundations of Slovenian foreign policy and its shaping in the 1990s 138
6.3. International context: integration of Slovenian foreign policy in global and Euro-Atlantic discourse 146
6.4. Slovenia in the role of upholder and mediator of values 150
6.5. Restrictions and limitations of Slovenian moral foreign policy 157
6.6. Conclusion 159
7. Conclusion 163
Bibliography 173
Summary 189
Index 191