

Page no.	Contents (main chapters):
12	Tables and figures
15	Acronyms
19	Chapter 1: Introduction
63	Chapter 2: The Development of ASEAN Norms Between 1997 and 2000: A Paradigm Shift?
133	Chapter 3: From "Neighborhood Watch Group" to Community? The Case of ASEAN Institutions and the Pooling of Sovereignty
163	Chapter 4: Irritable Community: Unstable Solidarity in Post-crisis ASEAN
283	Chapter 5: ASEAN – Positions Vis-à-vis Third Parties
323	Chapter 6: ASEAN Plus Three: What They Say, What They Mean, What We Can Expect From Them
369	Chapter 7: Conclusion
379	Appendix: Bibliographic References

Contents (main chapters):	Page no.
Tables and figures	12
Acronyms	15
Chapter 1: Introduction	19
Chapter 2: The Development of ASEAN Norms Between 1997 and 2000: A Paradigm Shift?	63
Chapter 3: From "Neighborhood Watch Group" to Community? The Case of ASEAN Institutions and the Pooling of Sovereignty	133
Chapter 4: Irritable Community: Unstable Solidarity in Post-crisis ASEAN	163
Chapter 5: ASEAN – Positions Vis-à-vis Third Parties	283
Chapter 6: ASEAN Plus Three: What They Say, What They Mean, What We Can Expect From Them	323
Chapter 7: Conclusion	369
Appendix: Bibliographic References	379

Contents (chapters in detail):	Page no.
Chapter 1:
Introduction
0. Two waves of regionalism in East Asia	21
1. Objective and structure of the book	23
2. Collective Identity Between States	24
2.1. A Working Model of Collective Identity	24
2.2. Assessing Collective Identities Between States: Formulating Categories of Analysis	29
3. Introducing ASEAN and ASEAN Plus Three	32
3.1. The Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN)	33
3.1.1. Brief historical overview	33
3.1.2. Institutional framework	40
3.1.2.1. Internal institutional structure of ASEAN	40
3.1.2.2. Institutional framework for collective interaction with external partners	46
3.1.3. Central purposes of ASEAN	48
3.1.4. Type of cooperation	51
3.1.5. Problems	52
3.2. ASEAN Plus Three	52
3.2.1. Brief history of the APT process	53
3.2.2. Institutional Framework	56
3.2.3. General purpose of APT	59
3.2.4. Type of cooperation	60
3.2.5. Problems and limitations	60
 Chapter 2:
The Development of ASEAN Norms Between 1997 and 2000: A Paradigm Shift?
1. Introduction	65

2. Traditional ASEAN Norms	67
2.1. ASEAN's Objectives	67
2.2. Constitutive Principles	73
2.3. Procedural Norms	74
2.4. Behavioral Norms	75
3. Member States' Post-Crisis Views of ASEAN Norms	76
3.1. Thailand	77
3.2. The Philippines	85
3.3. Singapore	93
3.4. Malaysia	97
3.5. Indonesia	101
3.6. Vietnam	104
3.7. Laos, Myanmar	108
3.8. Addendum: The Secretary-General of ASEAN	112
4. The Present Norms System of ASEAN: Existing and Emerging Norms	120

Chapter 3:

From "Neighborhood Watch Group" to Community? The Case of ASEAN Institutions and the Pooling of Sovereignty

1. Introduction	135
2. 'Pooling' of sovereignty — a conditio sine qua non for ASEAN integration	137
3. All bark, no bite - regional institutions with no supranational teeth	140
3.1. Economic and financial cooperation mechanisms	140
3.1.1. ASEAN Free Trade Area (AFTA)	140
3.1.2. ASEAN Investment Area (AIA)	145
3.1.3. Dispute Settlement Mechanism	147

3.1.4. ASEAN Surveillance Process (ASP)	148
3.2. Mechanisms of political cooperation	151
3.2.1. ASEAN High Council	151
3.2.2. ASEAN Troika	151
3.2.3. ASEAN Secretariat	153
4. Visions of decentralized integration	156
4.1. The Eminent Persons Group (EPG) Report on the ASEAN Vision 2020	156
4.2. Trends in intergovernmental cooperation since mid-2000	157
5. The state of pooling of sovereignty and outlook for ASEAN integration	159

Chapter 4:

Irritable Community: Unstable Solidarity in Post-crisis ASEAN

1. Introduction	165
2. Solidarity	166
2.1. Solidarity as defined by ASEAN	166
2.2. The essence of group solidarity: The bird's eye view	168
2.2.1. Reasons for solidarity	169
2.2.2. Phenotypical characteristics of solidarity	169
2.2.3. Weak and strong solidarity	171
2.2.4. Situations of solidarity deterioration	172
2.3. Measuring ASEAN solidarity	172
2.3.1. Measuring ASEAN solidarity from the ASEAN perspective	172
2.3.2. Measuring ASEAN solidarity from the bird's-eye-view perspective	173
3. How much solidarity for ASEAN? – The cases	175
3.1. The “haze” over Southeast Asia: ASEAN, Indonesia and the haze crisis of 1997	175
3.2. The South China Sea dispute: ASEAN's shifting position vis-à-vis China (1992-2001)	187

3.3. ASEAN's role in the East Timor and Aceh conflicts (1999 through 2000)	215
3.4. Myanmar in ASEAN: A case of one-way solidarity? (1997-2001)	226
3.5. Economic crisis and after: Singapore's assistance to Indonesia (1997-2001)	238
3.6. Singapore and Malaysia: 'Whose solidarity?' Contending positions on AFTA and bilateral Free Trade Agreements (FTA)	247
3.7. ASEAN's solidarity with its new members: the aspect of development aid (1999-2001)	254
3.8. The case of Anwar Ibrahim: Reactions from ASEAN (1998)	258
3.9. Indonesia's outbursts against Singapore (1999 –2001)	262
4. Final Assessment	267
4.1. Assessment of indicators of solidarity	267
4.1.1. Norm compliance	267
4.1.2. The five situations of solidarity	272
4.1.3. Solidarity costs, relational signaling, ingroup/outgroup behavior, myopic opportunism	275
4.2. ASEAN solidarity measured by ASEAN standards	278
4.3. The state of ASEAN solidarity: the bird's eye view	278
4.3.1. Overall degree of ASEAN solidarity	278
4.3.2. Relative stability of ASEAN solidarity	279
4.3.3. Areas in which ASEAN solidarity is strongest/weakest	280
4.3.4. Implications for ASEAN members' appreciation of ASEAN's collective goods	280
5. Conclusion	281

Chapter 5:ASEAN – Positions Vis-à-vis Third Parties

1. Introduction	285
2. Procedure and evaluation	285
3. The respective ASEAN-5 states vis-à-vis the three external powers	286
3.1. The respective ASEAN-5 states vis-à-vis the U.S.	286
3.2. The respective ASEAN-5 states vis-à-vis Japan	296
3.3. The respective ASEAN-5 states vis-à-vis China	303
4. ASEAN's collective stance vis-à-vis the major powers	314
4.1. ASEAN vis-à-vis China	314
4.2. ASEAN vis-à-vis Japan	315
4.3. ASEAN vis-à-vis the U.S.	317
5. Conclusion	318

Chapter 6:ASEAN Plus Three: What They Say, What They Mean, What We Can Expect From Them

1. Introduction	325
2. What they say: Official objectives and agendas of the APT participants	325
2.1. ASEAN members	326
2.2. The 'Plus Three' countries	335
3. What they mean: An assessment of APT participants' motivation to cooperate	339
3.1. ASEAN	339
3.2. Japan	343
3.3. China	349

3.4. South Korea	352
4. Achievements and limitations of the APT project to date	356
4.1. The Chiang Mai initiative	356
4.2. Financial monitoring and early warning systems	359
4.3. The proposed ASEAN-China Free Trade Area	359
4.4. State of the discussion about the East Asia Free Trade Area (EAFTA)	360
4.5. Development cooperation	361
4.6. Institutionalization	361
5. East Asian Identity in the Making?	362
5.1. Collective norms	362
5.2. Is there a basis for APT solidarity?	363
5.3. Pooling of sovereignty	363
5.4. Ingroup/ outgroup distinction	364
6. Conclusion: What we can expect from them	366
Chapter 7:
Conclusion
1. Summary	371
2. Discussion	374
Bibliographic References	379