

Contents

Preface
Jürgen Trittin , German Minister for the Environment, Nature Conservation and Nuclear Safety	17

Introduction and summaries
Andreas Rechkemmer, Falk Schmidt	19

PART A

KEYNOTES AND MISSION STATEMENTS FOR THE PATH AHEAD

A strengthened International Environmental Institution
Klaus Töpfer	33

A memorandum in favor of a world environment organization
James Gustave Speth	36

UNEO may serve to balance public and private goods
Ernst Ulrich von Weizsäcker	39

Towards an International Environment Organization
Kerstin Müller	43

PART B

PREPARING THE FIELD FOR GOVERNANCE REFORM
IN THE ENVIRONMENTAL SECTOR

Addressing the Global Governance Deficit
Peter M. Haas	47

The Moral Architecture of Global Environmental Governance Paul Wapner	62
International cooperation and environmental politics after Rio and Johannesburg: Synchronicity of realities in a post-postmodern world? Andreas Rechkemmer	75
Global Environmental Change: A Challenge for Human Security Defining and conceptualising the environmental dimension of human security Janos Bogardi, Hans Günter Brauch	85

PART C
BENCHMARKS AND PROPOSALS FOR UNEP'S REFORM
AND THE UNEO INITIATIVE

UNEP – Reform perspectives two years after Johannesburg Adnan Amin	113
Assessing UNEP as Anchor Institution for the Global Environment: Lessons for the UNEO Debate Maria Ivanova	119
Initiative to establish a UN Environment Organization (UNEO) Denys Gauer	152
Advancing the debate on a World Environment Organization Udo E. Simonis	155
Towards a United Nations Environment Organization The Position of the German Advisory Council on Global Change Meinhard Schulz-Baldes, Lena Kempmann	176
The Rationale for a United Nations Environment Organization Frank Biermann	182
What can a UN Environment Organization achieve? A preliminary examination of functions and relationships Richard G. Tarasofsky	203

PART D
REGIONAL ASPECTS, NORTH-SOUTH RELATIONS, PARTNERSHIPS
AND THE ROLE OF SCIENCE

The European Union – a Strategic Actor for Sustainable Global Governance Hermann E. Ott	225
The necessity for co-ordinated regional governance in environmental issues: The Caspian Sea case Barbara Janusz	233
Global Environmental Governance from a North-South Perspective Thomas Fues, Dirk Messner, Imme Scholz	241
The negotiating position of developing countries – How to achieve a common North/South concept Enge Andrew C. M. Kiptoon	264
Sustainable Development and Just Globalisation: Models for a New Policy on North-South Relations Reinhard Loske, Roger Peltzer	266
Networks, Partnerships and Pioneering Solutions within the Multilateral Environmental Architecture John Ashton	274
The role of science in strengthening Global Environmental Governance Johannah Bernstein	281
When Does Power Listen to Truth? A Constructivist Approach to the Policy Process Peter M. Haas	287