

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	XV
Introduction	1
0.1 The Issue	1
0.2 Status Quaestionis.....	7
0.3 Limits and Aim of the Research	20
0.4 Method and Outline	26
Part One:
The Meaning of Social Justice and Democracy	43
Chapter I
Three Conceptions of the Concept of Justice	47
1.1 Social Justice as a Man's Due: To Each According to his Rights	48
1.1.1 A Brief Notion of Rights	48
1.1.2 Moral and Legal Rights	54
1.1.3 Positive and Ideal Rights	55
1.1.3.1 Publicly Established Rules	56
1.1.3.2 Promises and Agreements	57
1.1.3.3 Compensation and Reciprocation	61
1.1.3.4 Acknowledged Ideal Rights	63
1.1.4 Natural Rights	63
1.1.5 Links between Rights and Social Justice.....	65
1.2 Social Justice as an Ideal: To Each According to his Deserts.....	66
1.2.1 The Nature of Deserts	67
1.2.2 Desert comes from free Action	68
1.2.3 The Grounds for Deserts.....	72
1.2.3.1 Desert Depends on one's Contribution to Society	73
1.2.3.2 Deserts Depend on Effort	75
1.2.3.3 Deserts Depend on Compensation and on Fair Competition	79
1.2.4 Can Deserts Be a Basis for Social Justice?	80
1.3 Social Justice as Fulfilment of a Lack of Deficiency: To Each According to his Needs.....	88
1.3.1 The Meaning of Need Statements.....	89
1.3.1.1 Needs Seen from a Subjective Standpoint (Preferences).	89
1.3.1.2 An Objective Meaning of Needs	95
1.3.1.3 Needs Defined from One's Plan of Life.....	97
1.3.1.4 Needs Defined from their Universality	99
1.3.2 Are Needs Fixed?.....	104

1.3.3 Is the Satisfaction of Needs a Matter of Justice or a Matter of Humanity?.....	106
1.3.3.1 Equality of Welfare	107
1.3.3.2 Equality of Resources.....	114
1.3.3.3 Equal Opportunity for Welfare.....	120
1.3.3.4 Equality of Capabilities	122
1.3.3.5 The Needy and the Right to Receive Help.....	126
1.3.4 Are Needs a Yardstick for Social Justice?	132
1.4 Conclusion	135

Chapter II

Social Justice as Acquisition of the Basic Liberties and for the Advantage of the Least Favoured.....

141
2.1 The Original Position.....	141
2.1.1 The Circumstances of Justice	145
2.1.1.1 Objective Material Conditions	145
2.1.1.2 Subjective Circumstances.....	146
2.1.2 The Formal Constraints of the Concept of Right.	146
2.1.2.1 Principles should be General and Universal in Application	147
2.1.2.2 Publicity.....	147
2.1.2.3 An Ordering of Conflicting Claims and Condition of Finality.....	148
2.1.3 The Rationality of the Parties	149
2.1.4 The Veil of Ignorance	154
2.1.5 Toward a Second "Original Position"?.....	158
2.2 The Principles of Justice.....	160
2.2.1 The Primary Goods	162
2.2.1.1 The Basic Liberties.....	164
2.2.1.1.1 Definitions.....	164
2.2.1.1.2 The Importance and Scope of Basic Liberties.	166
2.2.1.2 Self-Respect.....	169
2.2.2 Distributive Justice and the Difference Principle.....	172
2.2.2.1 The System of Natural Liberty	173
2.2.2.2 The Liberal Interpretation or Liberal Equality.....	175
2.2.2.3 The Democratic Interpretation or Democratic Equality ..	176
2.2.2.4 Possible Interpretations of the Difference Principle	177
2.2.2.5 How to Define the "Least Advantaged"	180
2.2.2.6 Is Equality of Opportunity a Breakthrough to a Just Society?.....	183
2.2.3 The Preference for the two Principles of Justice.....	187

2.2.4	Is Rawls's Social Contract Theory Kantian?.....	189
2.3	The Notion of a Well-Ordered Democratic Society.....	194
2.4	Conclusion: The Power and Limits of Rawls's Theory.....	201
Chapter III
Guarantee and Advocate of Social Justice: Democracy
3.1	What is Democracy?	209
3.1.1	Power Belongs to the People	210
3.1.1.1	Direct Democracy	212
3.1.1.2	One-Party Democracy	214
3.1.1.3	Liberal Democracy	219
3.1.1.3.1	Liberalism and Democracy	219
3.1.1.3.2	Social Contract	222
3.1.1.3.3	Liberal Democracy Today.....	237
3.1.2	Nozick's Minimal State	239
3.1.2.1	Pure Procedural Justice	240
3.1.2.2	The Emergence of the State.....	241
3.1.2.3	Nozick versus Rawls	244
3.1.2.3.1	The Difference Between the Minimal State (Nozick) and the Redistributive State (Rawls)	244
3.1.2.3.2	Goods are not as Manna from Heaven.....	245
3.1.3	The Communitarian Critique of Liberalism	249
3.1.3.1	The State of the Problem	249
3.1.3.2	Liberalism Depreciates and Weakens Community	253
3.1.3.3	The Erroneous Praising of Justice.....	254
3.1.3.4	Towards a Negotiated Solution: Integration of the Notion of Community in the Liberal Theory	256
3.1.4	Rawls's Political Liberalism.....	257
3.1.4.1	Overlapping Consensus.....	259
3.1.4.2	The Priority of Right	264
3.1.4.3	The Idea of Public Reason.....	267
3.2	Realistic and Rationalist Notions of Democracy	268
3.3	Subjects of Democracy	271
3.3.1	Concerning Citizenship and Nationality	271
3.3.2	Racism as Negation of Democratic Equality.....	276
3.4	Favourable Conditions of Democracy.....	278
3.4.1	Historical and Political Factors.....	279
3.4.2	Economic Development.....	279
3.4.3	Intermediary Structures and the Necessity of Leadership.....	281
3.4.4	The Political Culture.....	284
3.5	Cosmopolitan Democracy.....	286

3.6 Conclusion: Is Democracy the Best Form of Government for Social Justice?	287
Part Two:
The Relevance of Rawls's Principles of Justice to Africa.....	291
Chapter IV
The African Way to Freedom	295
4.1 Colonialism, Apartheid and Beyond	296
4.1.1 Kenya	297
4.1.1.1 The Country and Its People	297
4.1.1.2 In the Service of the British Occupying Force.....	299
4.1.1.3 The Local Government.....	301
4.1.1.4 The Independence as the Beginning of Political Liberty.	304
4.1.1.5 The Centralization and the Monopartyism.....	311
4.1.1.6 The "Nyayo" Period.....	313
4.1.2 Zimbabwe.....	317
4.1.2.1 A Colonialism Based on the Separation of Races	317
4.1.2.2 The Self-Government in 1923 and the Federation of 1953	322
4.1.2.3 The Unilateral Declaration of Independence (UDI) 1965-1979.....	322
4.1.2.4 The Political Situation after the Independence of 1980...	325
4.1.2.5 The Top Priorities of the First Government.....	329
4.1.2.6 First Political Difficulties and the International Situation of the Country	330
4.1.3 South Africa	333
4.1.3.1 Different Communities in South Africa.....	333
4.1.3.1.1 The Afrikaners.....	334
4.1.3.1.2 English-speaking People.....	338
4.1.3.1.3 The Coloured, the Indians and the Blacks.....	338
4.1.3.2 The Apartheid Policy.....	339
4.1.3.3 The Struggle Against the Apartheid System.....	343
4.1.3.4 Towards a South African Monopartyism?	340
4.2 Is there a Well-founded Reason for Colonialism and Apartheid?	345
4.2.1 The Belief of a Holy Mission to Fulfil: the Civilizing Mission.....	347
4.2.2 Segregation on the Colour Skin Basis	350
4.2.3 Economic Factors.....	356
4.2.4 Ethical Considerations	357
4.3 The Current Situation of Political Rights and Liberty in Africa.....	359

4.3.1	Ethnicity, Patronage and Tribalism in African Political Life.....	361
4.3.1.1	The Reality of Tribe in Pre-colonial Africa and During the Colonial Period.....	363
4.3.1.2	The Present Situation.....	367
4.3.2	Does Democracy have a Future in Africa?.....	376
4.4	Public Goods and Equality of Opportunity.....	378
4.4.1	Origins, Possibilities and Limitations of Affirmative Action.....	378
4.4.2	The Africanization in Kenya.....	381
4.4.3	The Zimbabwean Experience of Affirmative Action.....	382
4.4.4	South African Affirmative Action.....	388
4.5	Conclusion.....	392
Chapter V
Economic Justice.....
5.1	The Distribution of Income and Wealth.....	398
5.1.1	Notions of Income and Wealth.....	398
5.1.2	How to Redistribute Income.....	399
5.1.3	The Sources of Inequality.....	400
5.1.4	Fair Distribution of Income and Wealth.....	403
5.1.4.1	The Utilitarian Theory and the Rawlsian Theory of Fairness.....	403
5.1.4.2	The Process View of Justice.....	405
5.1.5	Distribution of Income and Wealth in Africa.....	405
5.2	The Imbalance Between Investment and Savings.....	409
5.2.1	A Great Need for Investment.....	409
5.2.2	The Poor Savings.....	410
5.2.2.1	Internal Poor Savings.....	411
5.2.2.2	Poor Policy of Savings and Outflow of Capital.....	414
5.2.3	A Growing Imbalance.....	417
5.2.3.1	Worsening Situation in the Volume of Trade.....	417
5.2.3.2	Public Budget Deficit.....	418
5.3	Financing the Imbalance.....	420
5.3.1	Foreign Aid.....	420
5.3.2	Foreign Investments.....	421
5.3.2.1	Advantages and Disadvantages for Africans.....	421
5.3.2.2	Restriction and Withdrawal of Funds in African Countries.....	422
5.3.2.3	Causes of this Contraction.....	423
5.3.3	The Use of Official Stocks.....	423
5.3.4	External Debt.....	425
5.4	External Debt as a Hitch for African Development.....	428

5.4.1	Conditions which Lead to Debt	429
5.4.2	The Cycle of Debt	432
5.4.3	Attempts Towards Solutions.....	438
5.4.3.1	The Structural Adjustment Programmes.	439
5.4.3.1.1	A Brief Clear Policy of Structural Adjustment Programmes.....	440
5.4.3.1.2	Should African Countries Continue with those Programmes?	443
5.4.3.2	Recycling of the Debt.....	447
5.4.3.3	Debt Buy Backs	450
5.4.3.4	Debt Equity Swaps	451
5.4.3.5	Reduction of Interests.....	453
5.4.3.6	The Cancellation of Debts.....	454
5.5	Conclusion: Towards Debt Relief	455
Part Three:
	The African Way of Social Justice or Rawls Reconsidered.....	457
Chapter VI
Is Distributive Justice Based on an Individualistic Notion?
	Individualism Versus African Notion of Self	461
6.1	The Individual at the Centre of Society.....	461
6.1.1	The Individual as Consumer and Subject.....	462
6.1.2	The Philosophical Foundation of Western Individualism.....	463
6.1.2.1	The Evangelical and Roman Individualism.....	463
6.1.2.2	Descartes's "Cogito"	465
6.1.2.3	Leibniz's Monadism.....	474
6.2	The Community at the Centre of the Individualism: The African Communalism	485
6.2.1	The African Notion of Person.....	485
6.2.1.1	Tempels's Thesis	486
6.2.1.2	Mbiti's Thesis.....	488
6.2.1.3	Senghor and Nyerere's Theses	491
6.2.2	The African Individual as a Relational Subject.....	493
6.2.2.1	The Knowledge of Self in Subjectivity	493
6.2.2.2	Tradition as an Effective Means to Consolidate Relations	495
6.3	Conclusion	497

Chapter VII
Freedom, Basis for a Real Democracy in Africa.....	499
7.1 Stalemates of Majoritarian Democracy in Africa.....	502
7.2 Federalism: The Multiethnic Solution for Living Together.....	505
7.2.1 Meanings of the Concept of Federalism.....	508
7.2.2 Various Types of Federalism.....	510
7.2.3 Basic Features and Practicability of Realizing Federalism in Africa	514
7.2.3.1 Established Units and Territorial Dispositions	514
7.2.3.2 Noncentralization	522
7.2.3.3 Open Agreement.....	527
7.2.3.4 Constitutionalism, Federal Democracy, and Checks and Balances.....	530
7.3 Nigerian Case of Federalism in Africa	534
7.4 Power Sharing as a Consolidation of Peace and Democracy.....	538
7.4.1 Consociational Power Sharing.....	539
7.4.2 Integrative Power Sharing	545
7.5 Federalism versus Consociationalism?.....	552
7.6 Conclusion: The Erection of a Federal Culture in Africa	555
Chapter VIII
Poverty as Wealth of African Peoples.....	559
8.1 Poor, but not Poverty-stricken	564
8.1.1 Who are Poor?.....	564
8.1.2 Fighting Poverty.....	573
8.1.2.1 The Liberal Approach.....	573
8.1.2.2 The Fight Against Poverty as an Ethical Necessity	579
8.2 Approaches to Education for Everyone: The African Wager in Education for Liberation, Self-Reliance, and Development	580
8.2.1 General Goals of Education.....	582
8.2.1.1 Utilitarian and Social Goals of Education.....	584
8.2.1.2 Cultural Goals of Education	584
8.2.2 Advantages of Education.....	588
8.2.2.1 Education, Labour Productivity, and Economic Growth.	589
8.2.2.2 Effects of Education Towards African Women	591
8.2.3 Balancing Education in Africa?.....	593
8.2.4 Improvement of Education Quality	596
8.3 Facing Up to AIDS Epidemic and the Improvement of Health in Africa.....	605
8.3.1 Persistent Health Threats in Africa.....	606

8.3.1.1 Causes of Death and Illness	606
8.3.1.2 AIDS and Sexually Transmitted Diseases	608
8.3.2 Creating Possible Conditions for Health	612
8.3.2.1 Income and Wealth	612
8.3.2.2 Environmental Services	613
8.3.2.3 Food and Nutrition	614
8.3.2.4 Education of Women and their Positions in Society	616
8.3.2.5 Appreciation of Health and the Importance of Households	617
8.3.3 Improvement of Health Through Family Planning	618
8.3.3.1 Meaning, Values, Beliefs Affecting Family Planning	619
8.3.3.2 Is it Possible to Control Every Aspect of Life, Including Childbearing?	625
8.3.4 The Consequences of Health on Social Life	631
8.4 Conclusion	634
Drawing Conclusions and Prospects	639
Selected Bibliography	649
A. Of John Rawls	649
B. On John Rawls	653
C. On Social Justice in General	667
D. On Democracy	697
E. On Africa	720
F. Others	758