

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Introduction, Elżbieta Stadtmüller and Thomas Lane | 7 |
| 1. Elżbieta Stadtmüller, The EU's Future and Democracy in the Context of Enlargement | 15 |
| 2. Ireneusz Karolewski, The Convention as a New Method of Decision-Making in the Enlarged European Union. How democratic can it really be? | 35 |
| 3. Klaus Bachmann, Deliberating or Bargaining – the New Members and the Convention on the Future of Europe | 55 |
| 4. Andreas Selliaas, The European Union's External Minority Policy – Europeanising or Not? | 69 |
| 5. Ian Barnes and Claire Randerson, Enlargement and Transient Conditionality: the Case of Ethnicity | 87 |
| 6. Marek Wróblewski, Competitiveness and Trade in the EU after Enlargement – the Role and Significance of the New Member States | 101 |
| 7. Mariusz Niemiec, Inflow of Foreign Direct Investments to New Members of the European Union: Current Situation and Future Perspectives | 115 |
| 8. Irina Tanasescu and Isabelle Bédoyan, European Social Dialogue and Enlargement | 131 |
| 9. Mariusz Wojtan, Is Immigration a Threat? Arguments from the Perspective of a New EU Member | 145 |
| 10. Izabela Wróbel, Five Years Existence of the Anti-Fraud Office – is OLAF an Efficient Instrument in the Fight against Fraud and Corruption in the Enlarged European Union? | 159 |
| 11. Thomas Lane, An Historical Epilogue: East Europeans and the European Movement | 183 |
| Notes on contributors | 203 |