

Contents

Foreword	13
Acknowledgements	15
1. Introduction and Definition of the Problem	19
1.1. Approaching the Field of Investigation	19
1.2. Autobiographical Context	20
1.3. Thematic Approach	21
1.4. Definition of Terms	22
1.5. Goals and Samples	30
1.6. Work Design	33
2. South Africa in the Post-Apartheid-Era	37
2.1 Geographical Data	37
2.2 Socio-Political and Socio-Cultural Background	40
2.3 Identities in the Western Cape	47
2.4 Religion and Church Affiliation as Identity Shaping Elements	49
2.5 Ethnic and Socio-Cultural Affiliation as Identity Aspects	56
2.5.1 Coloureds	56
2.5.2 Blacks	60
2.5.3 Whites	64
3. Theoretical Frame of Reference	67
3.1 The Construction of Individual and Social Realities from the Viewpoint of Social Science and Ethnology	68
3.1.1 The Nation as a Construct	70
3.1.2 Multicultural Trends in Identity Constructions	73
3.2 Conflict Potentials in Identity Construction	77
3.3 Contributions to Conflict Research	82
3.3.1 Conflicts as Reality Constructs	85
3.3.2 Conflicts in Intercultural Contexts	86

3.3.3 Ethnic Conflicts as Special Form of Intercultural Conflicts	88
3.4 South African Value Discourse as Constructs of National Reality	91
3.4.1 Scholars for the Socio-Political Construction	94
3.4.1.1 Magoo P. More: The Rainbow-Nation	94
3.4.1.2 Erasmus D. Prinsloo: Ubuntu: African Humanism	97
3.4.2 Politicians and Theologians for the Socio-Political Construction	101
3.4.2.1 Steve Biko: Black-Consciousness	102
3.4.2.2 Nelson Mandela: A Peaceful Nation	104
3.4.2.3 Thabo Mbeki: African Renaissance	105
3.4.2.4 Desmond Tutu: Reconciliation	108
3.4.3 Scholars of the Scientific Discussion	109
3.4.3.1 Pieter H. Coetzee: Social Theory	109
3.4.3.2 Lesiba J. Teffo & Abraham P. J. Roux: Metaphysics	112
4. Methods	119
4.1 Methodical Approach	119
4.2 Methods of Planning	126
4.3 Methods in the Field	129
4.4 Methods of Evaluation	131
4.4.1 Transcription of Oral Survey	131
4.4.2 Qualitative and Analytical Methods	133
4.5 Methods of Interpretation and Presentation	139
4.6 Level of Expectations	141
5. The Exploratory Study	145
5.1 Preparation and Planning	145
5.2 Execution of the Field Investigation	145
5.3 Experiences in the Field	152
5.4 Discourse: The Conflict Potential of the "Rainbow Nation"	157
5.4.1 "There ain't no black...but it uses white light."	161
5.4.2 "They are busy plugging it all over..."	170
5.4.3 "They keep their artificial walls..."	180

5.4.4 Summary	186
5.5 Self-Image and Other-Image as Conflict Issue: Perception and Construction of Socio-Cultural and Religious Groups	189
5.5.1 Self- and Other-Images: Coloureds	190
5.5.2 Other-Images: Coloured Muslims	197
5.5.3 Self- and Other-Images: Whites	204
5.5.4 Self- and Other-Images: Afrikaners	218
5.5.5 Self-Images: Jews	225
5.5.6 Self- and Other-Images: Blacks	231
5.5.7 Other-Images: Foreigners, Refugees and People from Other African Countries	241
5.5.8 Summary	248
5.6 Narrated Conflict Situations in Post-Apartheid Cape Town	251
5.6.1 Apartheid in My Family	251
5.6.2 My Mother had a Dog	260
5.6.3 The Mixed Couple	270
5.6.4 The Coloured Thief	282
5.6.5 The Twenty-First	294
5.6.6 The Choir	301
5.6.7 Summary	309
5.7 Identity Conflicts	313
5.7.1 Coloured Gender Identity	313
5.7.2 Identity: Who am I?	321
5.7.3 Multiple Identities	329
5.7.4 Self-Identity	337
5.7.5 Summary	345
6. Results and Critical Reflection on the Study	349
7. Prospects	355

Bibliography	359
Appendix	390
Index of Tables and Graphs	390
Index of Abbreviations	392
Index of Interviews	393