

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
-------------------------	-----

List of contributors	ix
-----------------------------	----

1. Territory, identity and the places in-between: Culture and power in European borderlands
--	--

Thomas M. Wilson and Hastings Donnan	1
---	---

Part 1: States and their borders

2. Fidelity and betrayal in Trieste: Locating the 'crisis of the state'
---	--

Bjørn Thomassen	31
------------------------	----

3. Mechanisms of boundary construction on the Greek-Turkish maritime border
--	--

Jutta Lauth Bacas	55
--------------------------	----

4. Beyond Europeanization: A peripheral view of culture and the nation-state
---	--

Dieter Haller	81
----------------------	----

5. Natives, newcomers and others: Metalepsis of belonging in the borderland of Val Canale, Italy
---	--

Irena Šumi	103
-------------------	-----

Part 2: Minority and majority identities at changing borders

6. Border crossings: Dance performance and identity politics in a border region in northern Greece
---	--

Ioannis Manos	127
----------------------	-----

7. Reopened and renegotiated borders: Pomak identities at the frontier between Bulgaria and Greece
Dimitrina Mihaylova 155

8. Narrating 'national' at the margins: Seto and Cossack identity in the Russian-Estonian borderlands
Elena Nikiforova 191

9. Myth, rhetoric and political relations at the Istrian border
Lidija Nikočević 229

Part 3: 'Bridging' borders in the European Union

10. To which state to belong? Ethnicity and citizenship at Russia's new EU-borders
Laura Assmuth 255

11. Development, democracy and the New Europe in the Irish borderlands
Paul Collinson 289

12. New frontiers in a borderless Europe: The case of Bidasoa-Txingudi
Zoe Bray 321

Index 349