

Table of Contents

Abbreviations	XII
I. Introduction	1
II. The Doctrine of uti possidetis	5
A. Origin of the Term uti possidetis	5
1. Uti possidetis in Roman Law	5
2. Influence of Roman Law in Forming the Law of Nations	6
3. The Law of War	7
B. Uti possidetis in the “Decolonization Process”	9
1. The Latin American Independence	9
a) Adherence to the Colonial status quo	9
b) Manifestation of the Practice of Adhering to the Colonial status quo	11
c) Appearance of uti possidetis	14
d) Adoption of uti possidetis in Constitutions and Treaties	18
e) Different Meanings of uti possidetis	20
f) A Comparative Analysis between the Latin American uti possidetis and the “original” uti possidetis	23
g) The Practice of Latin-American States	24
aa) Columbia – Venezuela Arbitration (1891)	24
bb) Honduras v. Nicaragua (1906)	26
cc) Bolivia – Peru Arbitration (1909)	28
dd) Guatemala – Honduras Arbitration (1933)	29
ee) Land, Island and Maritime Frontier Dispute (El Salvador – Honduras, Nicaragua intervening 1992)	34
ff) Beagle Channel Arbitration (Argentina v. Chile)	36
h) Further Aspects	38
i) Conclusion	44
2. Decolonization in Africa	45
a) Africa prior to Colonization	45
b) African Practice	48
aa) Revision of Colonial Boundaries	48
bb) Maintenance of Existing Boundaries	49
cc) Conclusion	54
c) The Difference between the Latin American and the African Situation	55
d) Boundary Treaties	57
aa) The rebus sic stantibus Rule	58
bb) State Succession	60

(1) Introduction	60
(2) Opinio juris	62
(3) State Practice	63
(4) The International Law Commission and the Vienna Convention on Succession of States in Respect of Treaties of 1978	66
e) Utī possidetis in Africa	68
f) Approach of the ICJ and International Tribunals	70
aa) Guinea – Guinea-Bissau Maritime Delimitation Case	71
bb) Case concerning the Frontier Dispute (Burkina Faso / Republic of Mali)	72
cc) Guinea-Bissau v. Senegal	76
C. Recent State Practice	81
1. The Former Yugoslavia	81
2. The Former USSR	88
3. The Former Czechoslovakia	91
D. Legal Status of uti possidetis	92
III. The Right to Self-Determination	99
A. Origin of the Right to Self-Determination	99
B. Incorporation into the UN Charter and other International Treaties	104
C. The Principle of Self-Determination in Context of Decolonization	110
D. Statements of the ICJ regarding Self-Determination	113
E. The Scope of the Right to Self-Determination beyond the Decolonization Process	117
1. The Meaning of the Term “Peoples”	117
2. The Content of the Right to Self-Determination	125
a) Presentation of Different Views	126
b) Position of the League of Nations	129
c) Position of the UN	131
F. State Practice	135
1. The Case of Eritrea	135
a) Historical Background	135
b) Ethiopia’s View	142
c) Eritrea’s View	143
d) Conclusion	144
2. The Case of the Comorian Island of Mayotte	145
3. The Dispute over Walvis Bay	154
G. Self-Determination as a Binding Legal Rule of International Law	157

IV. Conflict between the uti possidetis Doctrine an the Principle of Self-Determination	162
A. Statement of the ICJ	162
B. Presentation of Different Views	163
C. Conclusion	170
V. Conclusion	172
 Bibliography	 178
Decisions of International Tribunals	192