

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Editor's Preface	7
Introducing words.....	11
PART ONE: PERSPECTIVES.....	15
I.1. An intro-perspective as an author	15
I.2. Research interest and trans-rational perspectives	19
I.2.1 Trans-rational Peace Studies.....	21
I.3. Bhakti yoga and Trans-rational Peace Studies.....	30
I.3.1. Bhakti yoga and modern history.....	32
I.3.2. Gaudiya Vaishnava School of bhakti yoga	35
I.4. Research Methods.....	39
I.4.1. Literature and seminal works.....	40
I.4.2. On Knowledge and Mythology	45
I.4.3. Methods of obtaining knowledge.....	48
I.4.4. Spiritual masters and discipic succession.....	49
I.4.5. The state of (he)art.....	52
PART TWO: PEACE CONCEPTS.....	55
II.1. Modern history and Ethnocentric Concepts	56
II.2 Modern Concepts in Peace Studies	59
II.3. Development and the singularity of a universal peace.....	62
II.4 Post-colonial perspectives.....	64
II.4.1. Colonialism and Identity.....	64
II.4.2. Modern Indology and Orientalism.....	66
II.5. Post Modern Concepts - Towards a plurality of peaces.....	69
PART THREE: A NON MODERN PEACE COSMOGONY.....	73
III.1. The meaning of Peace in the Vedas	74
III.1.1. Shanti- inner peace and liberation	75
III.1.2. The etymological meaning of shanti	77
III.1.3. The peace mantra	78
III.2. Sanatana Dharma- religio perennis	79
III.3.Diversity in Unity or Unity in Diversity	82
III.4. A cosmic play.....	85
III.4.1. The play of creation.....	89
III.4.2. Maya – cosmic veil and creative potency.....	92
III.4.3. The cosmic play of a cowherd boy.....	95
III.4.4. Divine play outside Indic traditions.....	101

PART FOUR: BHAKTI - PLAY OF DIVINE LOVE.....	107
IV.1. The etymological and philosophical meaning	107
IV.2. The nature of bhakti.....	112
IV.3. The concept humanity and divinity	115
IV.3.1. Three aspects of One (Divine)	116
IV.3.2. The lila of Bhagavan	122
IV.3.3. Human life in bhakti	124
PART FIVE: BHAKTI - AN AESTHETIC VIEW	129
V.1. The nature of love in bhakti.....	130
V.2. Rasa- aesthetic raptures.....	132
V.3. Five (main) waves of rasa.....	134
V.4. Transcendental eroticism in bhakti-rasa	137
V.4.1 The lila of Radha Krishna – ultimate rapture.....	140
Concluding words	145
Acknowledgements	149
Sanskrit Glossary.....	151
Bibliography	159