

Study Outline

List of Abbreviations	13
List of Exhibits and Tables	17
1 Introduction	21
1.1 Purpose of the Study	23
1.2 Proceedings of the Study	30
1.3 Research Method	31
2 Coordination and Humanitarian Relief – Current State of Literature	43
2.1 Overview of Major Strands in the Literature	44
2.2 Interorganizational Coordination as a Subject of Concern in the Literature on Humanitarian Relief	48
2.3 Main Shortcomings of Studies on Humanitarian Relief to Date	70
2.4 First Forays into Applying Lessons from Organization Science to Humanitarian Relief	71
2.5 Summary and Concluding Remarks	77
3 Trends and Actors in Global Humanitarian Action	81
3.1 Trends in Financing Humanitarian Aid	81
3.2 The Humanitarian Reform Agenda and the Role of the UN	92
3.3 State Sovereignty and the Responsibility to Protect	106
3.4 Politicization of Humanitarian Aid	110
3.5 Overview of Main Humanitarian Actors	114
3.6 Summary and Concluding Remarks	143
4 Coordination of Humanitarian Relief: A Theory-Guided Approach	147
4.1 Coordination in International Relations Theory	147
4.2 Interagency Coordination in Organization Theory	153
4.3 UN Coordination Revisited	172
4.4 A New Framework for Coordination	175
4.5 Summary and Concluding Remarks	201

5	Case Study: The Humanitarian Crisis in Darfur	205
5.1	Historical Background	205
5.2	Record of the Humanitarian Relief Response to Date	215
5.3	The Relevant Context of Humanitarian Relief in Darfur	237
5.4	Coordination as Loose Alliance, Orchestrated Alliance, Lead Partnership, or Lead Agency	265
5.5	Summary and Concluding Remarks	286
6	Conclusions	289
6.1	Summary of Findings	289
6.2	Recommendations	295
6.3	Critical Assessment	314
6.4	Perspectives for Future Research	318
	Key Terms and Definitions	323
	Bibliography	337