

Table of Contents

Introduction.....	9
-------------------	---

Part I

The ICTY's Role in Serbia's and Croatia's EU Accession – an Agent or a Principal of Europeanisation?	23
---	-----------

Introduction.....	25
-------------------	----

Europeanisation.....	28
----------------------	----

Principal-Agent Dichotomy	34
---------------------------------	----

Historical Background: The Policies of the EU and the ICTY toward Serbia and Croatia.....	41
---	----

Serbia and Croatia in the 1990s: Key Events in Retrospect	41
---	----

The ICTY 1993-2001: Between Power Politics and “Rhetorical Action”	48
--	----

The European Union 1990-1999: Transitional Justice Conditionality and Enlargement	56
---	----

Transitional Justice Policy Changes of the EU Towards Croatia	62
---	----

From Tudjman's Death to Gotovina's Indictment.....	62
--	----

The Postponement of Croatia's Entry Negotiations	66
--	----

The Run-Up to Gotovina's Arrest	69
---------------------------------------	----

The EU's Transitional Justice Policy Changes Towards Serbia.....	76
--	----

From Milošević to Karadžić and Mladić	76
---	----

The EU's and Serbia's Local Politics	79
--	----

Karadžić's arrest and the quest for Mladić	83
--	----

The Transfer of Mladić and Hadžić	92
---	----

Conclusions.....	96
------------------	----

Part II

External Influences on Judging at International Criminal Tribunals.....	105
--	------------

Introduction.....	107
-------------------	-----

Fact-Finding, Evidence and Testimony	115
--	-----

Four Case Studies of External Influence and Judges' Frames of the Conflicts.....	124
--	-----

Framing the Past in International Criminal Tribunals	131
--	-----

The Frames Concerning the Conflict in Rwanda in April 1994 and the Death of Belgian Soldiers in Rwanda in 1994	139
--	-----

The Belgian Government's Frames	143
---------------------------------------	-----

The Frames of the Rwandan Government	146
--	-----

The New York Times Frames.....	150
The Frames of Le Monde.....	152
The Frames of the US Government	158
Other Frames: Gourevitch and Dallaire	160
The Frames of the UN	164
The Organisation of African Unity's Frames	166
The Frames of Human Rights Watch	166
The Prosecutor's Frames	171
The Frames of the Trial Chamber in the Pros. vs. Bagosora et al.	174
Resisting Powerful External Frames.....	178
The Frames in the Prosecutor vs. Akayesu	180
The Frames of International Media	180
The Frames of International Non-Governmental Organisations	181
The Frames of the Prosecution	191
The Frames of the Trial Chamber.....	193
What Powerful Frames Can Achieve.....	194
The Frames Concerning the Behaviour of Dutchbat in Srebrenica in July 1994....	200
The Dutch Government's Frames Concerning Srebrenica	201
Human Rights Watch's Frames	210
The United Nations' Frames.....	214
Other Frames.....	220
The Frames of the Trial Chamber in the Pros. vs. Krstić	233
The Frames of the Appeals Chamber in the Pros. vs. Krstić	235
Judges as Agenda-Setters.....	238
The Frames of the Račak Events in Kosovo	241
Two Antagonistic Frames From Governments.....	241
Media Frames	243
The Frames of the US Government	244
The Frames of the French Government	245
The Frames of The New York Times	246
The Frames of Le Monde.....	247
The Frames of Human Rights Watch	248
The Frames of the Kosovo Liberation Army.....	249
The Prosecution Frames About the Events in Račak.....	254
The Frames of the Trial Chamber in the Pros. vs. Djordjević	261
Establishing the Level of Congruence between Judges' and External Actors' Frames.....	266
Explaining Judicial Behaviour at the ICTY and the ICTR.....	272

Part III

Politicizing Tribunals? Reconciliation in Sentencing and Judging at the ICTR and the ICT	283
Concepts of Reconciliation	289
Reconciliation in Theory	289
Reconciliation Within Social Space	298
Reconciliation as Truth Production and Memory Work.....	301
Reconciliation and Legal Space.....	304
Reconciliation as a Discursive Device.....	305
Reconciliation and the Everyday	307
Result: An Open Definition	309
How Justice Contributes to Reconciliation: A Typology	310
Sublating Vengeance	310
Acknowledging Victims	312
Individualizing Guilt.....	313
Consolidating Democracy and the Rule of Law	317
Ending Impunity	319
Generating Truth.....	320
The Concept of Reconciliation at the ICTR	321
Important documents	321
Sentences	326
Reconciliation Through Retribution?	326
Reconciliation and Plea Bargaining: A Restorative Understanding.....	328
Strategic Signifying: Retributive Versus Restorative Interpretations of Reconciliation	332
Findings	337
Reconciliation at the ICTY	339
Reconciliation in ICTY Trials: Guilty Pleas and Plea Bargaining	341
Reconciliation in the Pros. vs. Erdemović	348
Reconciliation as a Rhetorical Smokescreen – the Pros. vs. Plavšić	352
Individual Identity Transformation with Fatal Consequences – the Pros. vs. Babić	360
Reconciliation and Guilty Pleas of Low-Level Perpetrators	364
Reconciliation Without a Guilty Plea	368
Reconciliation at the ICTR and the ICTY: Findings	374
Conclusion: Actorness and Autonomy of the ICTY and the ICTR	379

Literature, Sources, and Databases	387
Information about the interviews	387
Databases and Electronic Archives	389
Bibliography	391
List of Abbreviations	399
Index of Names	401